Insurgent units from Babimost surrounded the Germans in Nowe Kramsko. However, they managed to escape. 6 Polish soldiers were killed and 17 were wounded. Losses on the German side were 40 dead, approximately 50 wounded and 25 taken into captivity. Considerable amounts of weapons and ammunition were also seized, including 6 medium machine guns, 40 rifles and an ammunition cart. A German counterattack forced the insurgents to leave the town.
